7. Work Session

a. Town of Herndon Leases

Mayor LeBlanc recognized Scott Robinson, Acting Deputy Town Manager, who reviewed the leases at Town-owned buildings, including the Herndon Municipal Center (HMC); Herndon Police Department (HPD); and several other offices located at 397 Herndon Parkway. He also discussed leases to nonprofit organizations at Town Hall and a caretaker lease at the golf course. Mr. Robinson noted two additional properties: the Fortnightly Library land lease property (owned by the Town) and the NOVA Parks land license for the Herndon Depot, located within the W&OD Trail easement.

Mr. Robinson provided an overview of lease management for the HPD, Town Hall, and Depot properties. At 397 Herndon Parkway, Colliers, a property management firm, manages leasing efforts by initiating, negotiating, or marketing the space, with a detailed process leading to the Town Council's review of the leases. For non-commercial leases, drafts are handled by the Town Attorney and Public Works lease manager, with final approval by Council.

Mr. Robinson indicated that the Town does not plan to renew its lease with TWC at 397 Herndon Parkway, noting that the space will be repurposed for Town staff needs. Fairfax County Public Schools holds a 15-year lease at a 397 Herndon Parkway office, and the building at 750 Center will not receive further investment. The Depot is subject limited use restrictions determined by NOVA Parks and will remain as is. Additionally, Town Hall is undergoing use changes to accommodate staff needs.

There was discussion among the Council and staff on: (1) in-kind leases, including potential value and disclosure by tenants; (2) Collier's role in managing certain properties; (3) staff needs for additional office space; and (4) the status of various leases.

Following discussion and with consensus of Council, staff was asked to review the leases to ensure notice of in-kind donations are provided for IRS disclosures, where applicable. Staff will coordinate with the Department of Finance to confirm current practices.

b. Herndon Youth Advisory Committee Structure Discussion (rescheduled from the August 6, 2025, work session)

Mayor LeBlanc recognized Amanda Kertz, Town Clerk, who provided an overview of the Herndon Youth Advisory Committee (HYAC). Revived in September 2024, the committee met four times over the past school year to discuss topics relevant to Herndon's youth. At their last meeting in June, the group explored ways to improve the committee's structure and procedures. This included a request to collaborate more fully with Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) to engage more students and generate greater interest in Town programs, such as internships and externships. The current term expired on June 5, 2025 (end of the school term).

There was discussion among staff and Council on the following: (1) items the HYAC reviewed during their term; (2) proposal to select two seniors as Chair and Vice Chair for the next term; (3) quorum challenges experienced during the last term; and (4) other opportunities for collecting youth input—holding focus groups at Herndon Middle and Herndon High Schools, and participating in a leadership committee for Herndon in coordination with Fairfax County's Department of Neighborhood and Community Services. Additionally, the Town Clerk was asked to gather input on the committee's future from the former members of the HYAC.

Mayor LeBlanc suggested revisiting this topic at a future work session to receive input from the two absent councilmembers.
